The Beauty of Truth is immortal. The beauty of a mind, with strong values and principles is far lasting than any physical attributes. "Burning in the flame of Enmity we are all alone", let us unite in companionship. Nature nurtures man. So let us endeavor to cherish the environment around us. Life goes on and every day we wake up to a new dawn. It is us who can change this world through our love and friendship.

The production, based on different writings and poetries of Tagore, focuses on issues which are relevant to present times, and present visual representations which expectantly will make the audience relate and identify with the topics.
