

Nagar Lakshmi

A dance theatre presentation based on the famous poem 'Nagarlakshmi' by Rabindranath Tagore from his 'Katha O Kahini' this production is in celebration of the 150th birth Anniversary of Kabi Guru Rabindranath Tagore.

The poem describes a situation of famine in Sravastipur where Lord Buddha asks his affluent disciples for help, only to be disappointed by their refusals to accept responsibility in alleviating the sufferings. To the surprise of all, Supriya, a timid 'Bhikshuni', offered to bear the responsibility of feeding the masses by collecting from everyone and gathering enough for all.

The Production will be a collaborative effort with prominent directors, choreographers, juxtaposing and amalgamating dance (classical and contemporary), drama and visual designs.

This production delves into the depths of the human heart and soul to tap into the immeasurable capacity for love and compassion that is inherent in all of us. We need to rise above our petty needs and look beyond our own self oriented spheres for the betterment of society at large.
